BIG BATTLE BEGINS AROUND MUKDEN

Japs Make Several Attacks--
Repulsed at Port Arthur.

The Confirmation of the Sinking of Japanese War Vessels Was Received Today.

HEAVY FIGHTING IS EXPECTED

Rome, Sept. 30.—A dispatch from Mukden states that the battle about that place began yesterday evening. The Japanese opened hostilities by delivering five desperate attacks at many points along the Russian front and flank.

RUSSIAN BOAT SANK.

Vladivostok, Sept. 30.—The Danish commander of the lightship near Bousire island reports that the Russian torpedo boat Reichtelini, which the Japanese took from Chefoo with an object of conveying it to Bousire, sank near the island. Before sinking the powder magazine aboard exploded, killing thirty Japanese.

RUNNING THE BLOCKADE.

Chefoo, Sept. 30.—A Japanese torpedo boat destroyer at midnight landed eighteen Chinese coolies taken from a junk trying to run the blockade, carrying mail from Port Arthur. Two Russians disguised as Chinese were held as prisoners.

SITUATION ABOUT THE SAME.

Harbin, Sept. 30.—There is no change in the situation about Mukden. A dispatch received today states that the Russian cavalry dispersed two parties of Japanese taking some cattle. The main body of Japanese south of the branch railway is moving eastward.

COMMUNICATION CUT OFF.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—Communication with Mukden is practically suspended and St. Petersburg is therefore suffering another period of anxiety and suspense just when the intimation had been given that important developments were imminent between the armies of Kuropatkin and Oyama. Port Arthur is more isolated than ever and the only news from that place comes by the way of Vladivostok. It contains, however, hopeful intimation that the garrison is confident of being able to hold out till the first of the year.

GARRISON NOT ALARMED.

Vladivostok, Sept. 30.—Private reports from Port Arthur state that the garrison there is confident of being able to hold out until the beginning of next year.

The report is confirmed of the loss of three Japanese torpedo boats and the damage of a Japanese cruiser by coming in contact with Russian mines.

All is quiet at Vladivostok.

MAIN ARMY RETIRED.

London, Sept. 30.—Telegraphing from New Chwang, the Mail's correspondent says:

"The main force of the Russian army has retired to the north of Mukden. Strong forces of troops have been thrown out to defend both flanks and the southern approaches to the city have been mined. Indications are that no serious attempt will be made to hold Mukden."

DEATHS FROM BERI-BERI.

London, Sept. 30.—The Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent gives a vivid account of the terrible ravages of Beri-beri among the Japanese and especially among those besieging Port Arthur, asserting that deaths from the disease exceed the number killed in fighting.

REPULSED AT PORT ARTHUR.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—An official dispatch received today states that a general assault was made on the defense at Port Arthur from Sept. 20 to 26, but was everywhere repulsed.

Vienna, Sept. 30.—The Hungarian trading steamer Groedel, from Madrid, flying the English flag, arrived today. She reports that a Russian cruiser, the Terek, searched her for contraband off Gibraltar. The Russian commander, according to officers of the steamer, demanded their signature to a declaration that no breach of international courtesy was committed. The commander added that if he had found the Groedel in Japanese waters he would have sunk her.

NEW YORK CONCERN HAS BACKED DOWN

The County Bonds Bought by a New Company.

White & Company Declined at the Last Moment to Refund $100,- 000 in County Bonds.

BETTER CONTRACT NOW MADE

These $100,000 county bonds which the county has been trying to refund for the past two months, after experiencing strenuous times in New York, have at last been successfully refunded by the firm of Kleinburn & Company, of New York, a very responsible firm.

The county for the past year tried several times to refund the bonds but wanted to pay too small a per cent., the bonding firms refusing to bid as low as the county wanted them to. At last White & Company, of New York, sent a proposition here to take the bonds at 4 1/2 per cent. interest and the county judge called fiscal court and accepted the proposition. Every detail of the work was carefully completed and the new bonds sent here, signed and returned to New York, only to find that White & Company refused to refund them because they thought Kentucky statutes made no provisions for refunding.

The last legislature passed an act authorizing counties to refund bonds and Treasurer H. H. Loving was sent to New York with a copy of the statutes to "show them." He returned satisfied that the bonds would be refunded but when he arrived no old bonds came back for destruction and a few days ago the county judge received a letter saying the firm had decided not to refund the bonds. Justice R. J. Barber, probably one of the best financiers in the city and chairman of the refunding committee, was sent to New York by Judge Lightfoot and today he telegraphed back that he had successfully induced the bonding people to take the bonds at a rate of 4 per cent. interest. The firm is Kleinburn & Company, and stands even higher than White & Company it is said.

NEW LORD MAYOR

ALDERMAN JOHN POUND, WHO HAS
"NOTHING BUT MONEY," CHOSEN FOR THE PLACE.

London, Sept. 30.—Alderman John Pound, chairman of the London General Omnibus company, limited, was today chosen Lord Mayor of London for the ensuing year. He was born in Leadenhall street, London, in 1829.

Alderman Pound will succeed Sir James Thomson Ritchie as Lord Mayor. Mr. Pound is head of the firm of John Pound & Co., and was elected alderman of Aldgate ward in 1892. He is past master of the Leather Sellers' company, past master of the Fanmakers' company, and past master of the Fruiters' company.

A LITTLE FOR BOTH.

Washington, Sept. 30.—After a number of consultations with the president Acting Secretary of the Treasury Taylor has reached a conclusion in the matter of the customs stamp on boxes containing imported cigars. While no definite information is obtainable as to what the decision is, there is reason to believe it will be fairly satisfactory to both sides. Neither side obtained all it requested.

BOILERMAKERS GO ON STRIKE.

Meadville, Pa., Sept. 30.—The boiler-makers employed in the Erie railroad shops here went on strike today. The men demanded the reinstatement of three members of a committee who had been discharged, and on the reply refusing to grant the demand a strike was ordered. A large number of men are idle.

OFFICIALLY APPOINTED.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Anna May Yeiser, daughter of the mayor of Paducah, Ky., has been officially selected to christen the gunboat Paducah, which will be launched at Morris Heights, New York, October 11.

TRYING TO KICK IT OVER.

"BAD MAN" KILLED BY AN IRATE WIFE

Ticky Jim Back Shot and Killed
Today.

He Was the Star Witness in the Noted Curtis Jett Murder Trial
Recently.

A DESPERADO IN HREATHITT

Jackson, Ky., September 30.—Ticky Jim Back, the star witness in the Curtis Jett trial for the defendant, was shot and killed by his wife this morning.

Back was intoxicated and in a family quarrel set fire to his residence. She grabbed the shot gun and fired both barrels into his breast, killing him instantly.

She was arrested and is now in jail. Back was indicted in the Harrison circuit court for swearing falsely in the murder trial of Curtis Jett, to which a change of venue was granted.

He was acquitted on the trial and since his acquittal had been on a spree.

He and his wife had not been on good terms for a year. The tragedy has created the biggest kind of a sensation here. He was regarded as one of the "bad" men of the mountains.

QUITS THE PARTY.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 30.—Gen. Francis W. Peabody, one of the most prominent democrats in the state, once a candidate for mayor of this city, says:

"I have resigned from the democratic club because I didn't want to be putting my money one way and casting my vote another. There are many things that may turn up between now and November which might prevent me from voting for Roosevelt, but if I carry out my present intentions I shall vote for Roosevelt."

CASE NOT TRIED.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 30.—Louis Mitchell, the negro arrested Saturday charged with attempting to poison the family of Judge Mulligan, was brought before a magistrate today and the case postponed until next Friday. County Attorney Kimball said the case will be thoroughly investigated without fear or favor.

ISLAND SWEEP AWAY.

Denver, Sept. 30.—A rumor is current that Trinidad was partially swept away by breaking a reservoir containing an immense volume of water. The wires are down and reports can not be verified. Heavy rains have caused several rivers to overflow their banks.

WILL ENJOY HIMSELF.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—Upon the emperor's return from Southern Russia he will go to his hunting lodge at Bielo-vekh, on the border of Poland, between Vienna and Kieff, for a fortnight's shooting.

Every republican in Paducah and the incorporated towns of the district should register on next Tuesday, October 4th.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Postmaster General Payne Has Heart Trouble.

Today He Hovers Between Life and Death and May Die at Any Time.

Washington, September 30.—Postmaster General Payne is seriously ill at his apartments at the Hotel Arlington here. Marked symptoms of heart trouble have developed and his condition became so serious during the day as to cause grave concern.

Mr. Payne recently returned from a trip west and appeared to be feeling in a much improved condition, though his health has been poor for a long time. He went to the White House to attend a meeting of the cabinet last Tuesday and that night was very restless. He was at his desk at the post-office department during the forenoon yesterday, although feeling very badly and did not return to the department after luncheon, remaining in his room. He became very ill last night and has been confined to his bed ever since.

Washington, D. C., September 30.—Noon.—Postmaster General Payne is hovering between life and death. His condition this morning is extremely critical and physicians fear the end may come at any time.

WERE BRIBED

SOME SENSATIONAL CHARGES AGAINST SEVERAL STATE
OFFICIALS.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—As a result of charges of bribery preferred against certain state food commissioners by T. N. Barrett, editor of a New York trade journal, at today's session of the international pure food congress a committee of investigation was appointed and instructed to conduct a thorough inquiry.

Barrett asserted he could prove that commissioners accepted emoluments in return for immunity from provisions of the pure food laws of different states.

MURDERED HER HUSBAND.

Marshall, Ill., September 30.—Mrs. Gertrude Norton was found not guilty of the murder of her husband, Mack Norton. A plea of self defense was made. The tragedy occurred last June and followed a quarrel.

ALLEGED LYNCHER ACQUITTED

Huntsville, Ala., September 30.—The jury in the case of George Frame, charged with murder, today returned a verdict of "not guilty." Frame is the fourth alleged lyncher of the negro Maple to be acquitted.

POSTOFFICE SAFE ROBBED.

St. Louis, September 30.—The post-office safe at Sullivan, Mo., 59 miles southwest of St. Louis, was blown today and about $1,000 in money and stamps was taken.

A CHICAGO STUDENT KILLS HERSELF

Body Was Found in the Lake Near There.

An Explosion of Natural Gas In Ohio Plays Havoq—Wife Mur-derer Is Hanged.

A UTAH POISONING CASE

Chicago, September 30.—Frances Parkhurst, the missing student at Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, is dead. The girl's body was discovered this morning in the lake after an all night search participated in by hundreds of men and soldiers from Fort Sheridan. All indications point to suicide.

WIFE MURDERER HANGED.

Chicago, September 30.—Frank Lewandowsky, the wife murderer, was hanged this morning in the county jail. Lewandowsky cut his wife's throat and then attempted suicide. He blamed whiskey for the tragedy.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

Cleveland, September 30.—An explosion of natural gas at the reducing station of the East Ohio Gas Company this morning destroyed the station and possibly fatally injured two men, and slightly injured a third. The officials say they believe someone tampered with the machinery.

POISONED BY OATMEAL MUSH.

Logan, Utah, September 30.—Mrs. William Hanson is dead and her husband is critically ill as a result of eating poisoned oat meal mush. How the poison got into the food is a mystery.

FOUL MURDER

FEARFULLY MUTILATED BODY OF
YOUNG GIRL FOUND IN WOODS
IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Yankton, S. D., Sept. 30.—A foul murder came to light today when the body of a young Mennonite girl was found fourteen miles west of Yankton. She had been missing several days and searching parties have been hunting for her. Her body was discovered near the border of lands belonging to Bon Homme Mennonite society. Her mouth was stuffed with grass and sod, evidently to prevent an outcry. Her clothing was almost entirely stripped from her body and she had been horribly mistreated. Suspicion rests on three tramps who were seen in the neighborhood during the day. Tracks of three men were found near the body.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF MISSOURI PACIFIC.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—A circular issued from the Missouri Pacific headquarters, announces the appointment of Charles S. Clarke as vice-president "in charge of its general operations and affairs." Clarke succeeds Russell Harding and was connected with the Illinois Central until fifteen years ago.

DEMOCRATS PULL OUT THE BIG BOYS

Cleveland, Olney and Carlisle to Speak for Them.

The Republican Centors Are Meeting With Rousing Receptions Everywhere They Speak.

CANNON IS OUT IN NEBRASKA

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 30.—From Helena to Spokane, Washington, Senator Fairbanks traveled yesterday, crossing the northern point of Idaho en route. Senator Fairbanks devoted himself largely to the duty on lumber, contending that republican policies are necessary to the proper protection of that industry.

In his speech last night Senator Fairbanks made an exposition of the republican policy in the Philippines, his leading topic.

Senator Dollivar spoke on the general issues of the campaign.

CANNON IN NEBRASKA.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 30.—Speaker Cannon concluded a week of speaking in Nebraska last night at the Lincoln auditorium, which was crowded. The tariff furnished the principal theme.

FORAKER SPEAKS.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.—The republican state campaign form a national standpoint opened here last night by Senator Foraker, of Ohio.

Senator Quarles of Wisconsin presided and in presenting Senator Foraker briefly referred to the factional differences in the republican party by saying he did not know whether the apparent apathy in Wisconsin was due to unfortunate factional differences which engaged the attention of the people so that they had no time to consider anything beyond, or to the settled conviction that Roosevelt was good enough for them.

BIG DEMOCRATS.

New York, Sept. 30.—A democratic mass meeting will be held in Madison Square Garden about the middle of October at which it is the intention to have as speakers Former President Cleveland and a number of the foremost democrats of the country. If his health will permit Mr. Cleveland will preside.

Among the speakers are to be Richard Olney of Massachusetts, and John G. Carlisle of Kentucky. Arrangements are perfected for the reception to be given Judge Parker next Wednesday night. Three thousand invitations are to be issued.

KISS AND MAKE UP.

New York, Sept. 30.—Representatives of every wing of the democratic party have been in conference with Judge Parker the past three days in an effort to secure harmonious work for the national ticket.

An incident that has created the most notable comment was a meeting between Senators Gorman and Rayner of Maryland, accompanied by the announcement from their political associates that whatever differences heretofore existed between the Maryland leaders have been dissipated, at least so far as the present campaign is concerned.

STEVENSON OPENS AT HOME.

Bloomington, Sept. 30.—Former Vice-President Stevenson opened the democratic campaign in central Illinois by addressing a mass meeting here last night. His principal subject was the tariff. He denounced the republican policy in the Philippines and also their failure to take action relating to trusts.

KILLED BY KURDS

ARMENIANS REPORTED MASSAC-
RED IN GREAT NUMBERS.

Paris, Sept. 30.—The Temps published a dispatch from Constantinople saying that private information had been received there to the effect that the village of Ramas, Arenis, was yesterday the scene of a massacre of Armenians by Kurds. Details are lacking.

London, Sept. 30.—This morning's bulletin says that Lady Curzon passed a quiet night. On the whole she is somewhat better.

PEACEFUL SLUMBER FOR AGED SENATOR

Death Came to George Frisbie Hoar Today.

His Condition Had Been Considered
Hopeless For Several Weeks Past.

SOMETHING OF HIS CAREER

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 30.—George Frisbie Hoar, senior senator from Massachusetts, died at his home in this city at 1:35 this morning.

The end followed a period of unconsciousness that had continued since early Tuesday.

Physicians despaired of the senator's life six weeks ago, but his vitality was such as to cherish a faith in his ultimate recovery.

On Sunday last, however, all hope was abandoned after the unsuccessful attempt to administer medicine and nourishment. Brief lucid intervals were followed by longer durations of unconsciousness until Tuesday morning when the venerable statesman sank into a state of coma from which all efforts to rouse him proved futile.

Senator Hoar had been in ill health since last winter when he was troubled with lumbago. The death of his wife in Washington proved such a blow that he never recovered from its effects. He came to his home here soon after the adjournment of congress, apparently recovered from the attack of lumbago.

The senator's last public appearance was when he made an informal afternoon address at the English high school. Up to August 17 he remained in his home and much of the time stayed in bed.

Senator Hoar was born at Concord, Massachusetts, Aug. 20, 1826, and was 74 years old. He had been a member of the United States senate for 27 years.

He studied law and entered upon his profession at Worcester, Mass., and his earliest appearance in politics was as chairman of the Free Soil party committee in 1849. From this period he was a conspicuous member of the republican party. He sat in the Massachusetts legislature in house and senate successively, from 1852 to 1869, when he was elected to congress. After serving as representative until 1877 he became a member of the national senate, where he remained until his death.

He often exhibited much independence of party in his political action, and in his latest years was especially prominent in his opposition to national expansion. He was one of the readiest of speakers in debate while his more formal speeches and orations were polished and scholarly in style, and forceful and eloquent in substance and delivery. His eulogy of President McKinley was the most notable of his later orations.

The funeral services over the remains of Senator Hoar will be held in the Church of Unity next Monday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale will officiate.

BISHOP POTTER

SAYS UNLESS THE EVIL IS STOPPED SOCIETY WILL RE-LAPSE INTO BARBARISM.

New York, September 30.—Bishop Henry C. Potter attacked divorce in vigorous terms in his report in the annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York. He declared that unless the church sets itself against the spread of the evil society would relapse into a state of practical barbarism, and he urged the clergy to set itself against divorce, which he characterized as a "Godless license which flings aside the most sacred vows because of vexatious uncongeniality."

PROFESSOR KILLED.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 30.—Arthur D. Wyman, an instructor in the chemical laboratory of Harvard, and son of Chas. F. Wyman, the Russian consul at Boston died today from injuries sustained by being run down by an automobile at midnight. The automobile was owned and operated by Leon Strauss, a student at Harvard.

Strauss was arrested on a charge of manslaughter and released on bail of $1,000.

THE LIGHT PLANT NEEDS MACHINERY

It is Now Equipped With Obsolete Material.

Expert Humphrey Will Not Be Ready
With Estimates For Two Weeks
—Two Plans Proposed.

GENERAL COUNCIL DECIDES

Electrical Engineer H. H. Humphrey, of St. Louis, who came here yesterday at the instance of the board of public works to go over the city light plant and ascertain what is needed, returned home last evening.

He will have estimates ready for the board in about two weeks. He made a thorough inspection of the plant, and found much obsolete, undesirable machinery.

The board of public works will get from him two estimates, one for temporary repairs to the light plant, and the other for permanent improvement of that will equip the plant for supplying Paducah with all the lights likely to be needed for ten years to come.

While at present there are no figures available, it is thought that between $5,000 and $8,000 will be necessary to patch up the plant temporarily, or without making any provisions for the future, while the permanent improvement of the plant will probably cost in the neighborhood of $15,000 or $20,000.

"We, of course, have nothing to do with the ultimate settlement of the question," said a member of the board this morning. "We can only find out what the city needs and recommend it to the general council."

"We have found already that the city light plant was never what it should have been. Cheap, second-hand machinery was installed at the start, which was ten years ago. There has probably been more progress in electrical devices in the last ten years than in anything else, and Paducah should get the benefit of it, instead of plodding along with this antiquated machinery that most cities would throw to the scrap pile."

"We hope to get a complete alternating outfit that will furnish either arc or street lights, and incandescent lights. It will cost something to get the machinery but the city will save a great deal of money in the long run, and have better lights for many years to come, besides."

A NEW TEACHER

is Necessary for the Mechanicsburg School.

One Class Now Has 83 Pupils—Another Room Is Necessary.

The school in Mechanicsburg is in a deplorable condition, and Supt. Lieb stated this morning that he would urge the board to act immediately in remedying the matter.

"In Mechanicsburg we have one small school, the Langstaff," Supt. Lieb stated, "and this is not half large enough to accommodate the pupils we have attending. In that section there are 137 pupils attending, and one class had a total of 83. This is too much work for a teacher and we had to arrange half-day sessions to enable her to teach. This can not be kept up the remainder of the term and relief must be had. I will urge the board to rent another building and teach one of the grades separate, if they will allow one more teacher."

Supt. Lieb stated that the schools were worked out regularly as to classification in grades. He has arranged the schools so that on an average the grades have 40 pupils each except in Mechanicsburg where nothing short of an additional teacher will suffice. The expense will be a little heavier but the pupils must be taught and the school authorities will be urged to act at the earliest opportunity. It is impossible to build the new $6,000 school this year but the board will build next year and the expense of the addition of another room to the Langstaff school will be unnecessary, and the only clear remedy is to rent a store room of some kind to serve this year out.

There are four more teachers this year than last year, which indicates the progress made by the schools. Many pupils from private schools have realized the high standard of the public schools and are attending the latter.

Republicans, if you would vote, register Tuesday, October 4th.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Congress.
Hon. J. C. Speight, of Graves county

DAILY THOUGHT.

Avoid fear in all its varied forms of expression; it is the greatest enemy of the human race.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and cooler tonight and Saturday.

REGISTER NEXT WEEK.

The new registration law, which was sustained as valid by the court of appeals makes very important changes in the method of qualifying to vote.

Each voter must receive a certificate that he has registered, signed by all the election officers, and he cannot vote unless that certificate is presented by him at the polls on election day.

Next Tuesday, October 4, is registration day in Paducah.

ENTER GORMAN.

Thus far the management of the democratic campaign has been an obvious bungle, due, paradoxically to a combination of inaptness with over-sharp methods. Taggart has apparently not known what to do, and Hill has known a little too well. Now they have imported Gorman, a man whose methods are quite so well known as those of Hill, and whose ability in the first Cleveland campaign was conceded.

Gorman is shrewd, but the trouble with him is much the same as the trouble with Hill—he is too shrewd, too much in love with the subtleties of diplomatic politics to see that there are times when a short, straight road is better than a labyrinth. If a man wants to get anywhere without being seen, a winding road is very convenient, but if he wants merely to get there, we have geometrical proof of the fact that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points.

The trouble with Gorman as a manager of the democratic campaign this year is that he will have to oppose, not politicians of his own stamp, but the straightforward, resolute, undogmatic personality of Theodore Roosevelt, and that the people are thoroughly awake to the advantages of a candidate who does not have to be explained. There are a good many things in Gorman's past which it would be hard to explain. He himself has never tried to explain them. He has taken refuge in a silence which his friends call dignified and his opponents regard as a confession of guilt. Anybody who likes can look up his record and decide for himself what it indicates. Gorman knows all the tricks of politics, but are tricks necessary, this year, to win votes?

PARKER AND THE TARIFF.

Judge Parker has evidently been coached somewhat upon a subject of which he apparently knew but little when he accepted the nomination for the presidency. In treating of the tariff question he says: "Furthermore, when our manufacturers are dependent on raw materials in whole or in part imported, it is vital to the extension of their markets abroad that they secure their materials on the most favorable terms." If Judge Parker was familiar with the rebate clause of the Dingley tariff, or with the rebate clause of the McKinley tariff, or with the same identical clause in the Wilson-Gorman tariff, he would know that there is already provision for a rebate of 99 per cent. upon all imports used in the manufacture of products for export. What more favorable terms would Judge Parker ask than that? It simply proves that the Judge does not know what he is talking about, and that his knowledge of the whole tariff question and its handmaid reciprocity is but superficial.

Judge Parker may be a diplomatic man, but if he is going to reconcile the opinions of all the people who are trying to agree with him he will need something more powerful than the lockjaw style of diplomacy.

It is all right for the democratic campaign managers to "view with alarm" the president's character and tactics. If we were in their place we should not be easy in our minds, either.

The people who are feeling so skittish about President Roosevelt's tendency to do things will not grumble one little bit when he does things they are in a hurry to have done.

Inability to boss Dave Hill is a poor recommendation for the job of president over the destinies of the country.

Every republican in Paducah and the incorporated towns of the district should register on next Tuesday, October 4th.

ATE COMPANION

Osborne Travis Left His Dogs Locked Up.

Half Starved, Three Killed and Ate on one Until they Could not Move.

Cannibalism among dogs is a rare occurrence, but a case was discovered in Paducah yesterday afternoon by school boys returning home from school in the north end of the city.

It will be remembered that last week Osborne Travis, colored, an old grave digger who resides in "Mooretown," near the cemetery, was sent to the Hopkingsville asylum. His house he closed prior to his arrest and unknown to the neighbors, locked in his four dogs.

Yesterday afternoon school boys heard a faint yelping and going to the window of the negro cabin saw three half-starved dogs lying on the floor, one whimpering. They burst open the door and a sickening sight met their gaze. On the floor lay the half-eaten carcass of a dog, and on the floor nearby lay the three dogs, too nearly starved and famished for want of water to move about. When the door was opened they got up, staggered a few times and fell back again too weak to walk. The boys went in and carried the dogs out into the fresh air, which seemed to revive them somewhat. Food was given the dogs and they devoured it without chewing it.

One got sick after eating and drinking, and swelled up to twice its normal size.

The dogs were owned by Travis, and on the witness stand when on trial, he stated the only friends he had were his dogs and dogs.

REPLIES TO CRITICS

He Gives Humanity as His Excuse.

Says He Is Satisfied With the Job of the Almighty in Making Thorne.

SAYS HE IS NOT A STONE MAN

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 30.—In response to the criticism of his action in pardoning Clem Butcher, the Louisville man serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary here, Lieutenant and Acting Governor Thorne gave the following characteristic interview: "It's human to err and divine to forgive. The representations of Butcher in this article and those in his petition are entirely different. He was evidently a bad man. But if he had been a good man he would not have been in the penitentiary."

"I console myself that I am not the first man that made mistakes. I hope no one will charge my mistakes to the governor for he told me I would get into trouble by trying to be overly kind to friends, so I assume all the blame in this matter. I wonder what the very people who disapprove of my action in this case would have to say if this poor fellow had been their brother, their son or kin? I dare say they would resent any criticism."

"Suppose you suggest that some of these folks swap off their liver for a heart. If the people want a stone man without a heart in this position why not have Muldoon or Burkhardt to furnish one and stand it up in the executive office where the broken-hearted mothers' fathers and sisters can come and plead in vain."

"Besides you remember it was said when I was a candidate for this office I would turn everybody out of the penitentiary (which I deny) yet 200,000 people voted for me. Now then I make one mistake they jump on me with both feet."

"That I have a heart easily touched and that responds promptly to the trouble I confess. God made me so and I do not regret it, yet I am sure it leads me often to yield when I should be stern. Yet I am content that I err on the side of mercy."

PANAMA WILL ASK ANNEXATION.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

A free port will be at the Atlantic and also at the Pacific end of the United States' ten mile wide strip across the Panama isthmus. Admiral Walker of the Panama canal commission tells this, and he knows. Probably a third of the entire business done at the isthmus when the work of canal construction gets actively under way will be done inside of the United States' strip. Probably two-thirds or three-fourths of all activities of the isthmus will be along or near that strip after the canal gets into operation. The two United States ports will immeasurably surpass the ports of the Panama republic in the extent of their commerce.

This will mean that the people of Panama will ask annexation to the United States at a very early day. Annexation is inevitable in any case. It was decreed just as soon as this country got its canal treaty with the perpetual possession of the territory for five miles along each side of the canal throughout its entire length. The republic of Panama has approximately 34,000 square miles of territory and a population of 340,000. She has Maine's area and a little less than half of Maine's population, or about the same number as Vermont. Standing alone, the Panama republic is feeble, except as she is backed up by the United States' protectorate.

Panama's interests will quickly incite a movement for annexation. As part of the United States—a territory for a few years and a state afterward—Panama will be able to make her mark in the world. When the stars and stripes are raised all over the little republic, that 340,000 population will soon double and triple itself. The isthmian country has large natural resources. These will be developed after she comes under our flag. American and foreign capital will flow into Panama in streams which will surprise its inhabitants. The present population will soon be largely outnumbered by a different sort of a race from that which has inhabited the isthmus heretofore, and a new career will be opened to her people. All this destiny is pretty manifest to the United States and to the world. The brightest day in Panama's annals; thus far was the day in which, through her canal treaty, she came under the guardianship of the United States and started on the road to annexation.

SLIGHT WOUND

Dog Bit a Ten Year Old Boy at Mayfield.

Six Weeks Elapsed and Today He Was Brought Here For the Mad Stone.

Mr. J. F. Sullivan and wife, of Mayfield, Ky., arrived this morning early with John, their four-year-old boy, who was bitten on the forehead about six weeks ago by a dog. The wound has now entirely healed, but the parents of the youngster, who had read the various foolish superstitions and "notions" about people going "mad," months after being bitten, came to Paducah and wanted Captain Joe Fowler's mad stone applied to the place.

The dog that bit the child was evidently rabid, they say. It bit a pup and a pig the same day, and both shortly afterwards died after exhibiting every symptom of rabies.

The slight scratch on the boy's forehead healed, however, and he is apparently all right. The parents were advised that the only way the mad stone could be applied would be by cutting open the scar, which would be foolish, and the boy would probably have no trouble from the wound.

HONEST CONFESSION

IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL. THINKS THE COURT.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 30.—Expressions of regret by Gov. John L. Bates and Special Justice H. C. Phelps, of the Municipal Court, at Lee, Mass., that want of knowledge of international law had resulted in the imposition of a fine by Judge Phelps on Hugh Gurney, third secretary of the British embassy, have been forwarded to the state department at Washington.

Secretary Gurney, on Monday last, was adjudged guilty of exceeding the laws governing the speed of automobiles and of contempt of court in refusing to plead to the charge against him and was fined $50. He protested, and the matter was called to the attention of the state department by the British ambassador, with the result that Gov. Bates was asked to investigate.

Prompt action was taken by Lieut. Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., in the absence of the governor, and by Gov. Bates on his return to the state yesterday, and several letters bearing on the case were sent to Washington.

Theatrical Notes

Milt G. Barlow, the original "Uncle Black Joe" of the minstrel stage, for many years widely known as "Uncle Tom," and later with The Texas Steer Company, is dead in New York from cancer, aged 65 years.

"The Sign of the Cross" was presented last night at The Kentucky Theater to a small crowd. The play is on the order of "Quo Vadis" and the company headed by Mr. Walter Law, embraces some good talent. Miss Burnette Radcliffe, who played Poppaea, empress of Rome, is well known in Kentucky, being a niece of Dr. J. H. Richmond, of Owensboro. Miss Laura Stone did good work as Mercia, and the company is a capable one. Miss Frances Lynn, who had a minor part, is a former newspaper woman.

JUDGE REED

GOES TO BENTON TO HOLD CIRCUIT COURT.

Circuit Judge W. M. Reed this morning went to Benton to hold court.

Judge Reed has been attending the fair at St. Louis and in his absence Attorney J. C. Flournoy acted for him. Judge Flournoy's incumbency was marked by his knocking the lights out of the Birmingham and Benton local option laws. He decided the cases on technicalities.

Attorneys W. A. Berry, John G. Miller and D. G. Park went to Benton with Judge Reed to attend court.

"SHOW WHY" SALE

ORDERED BY REFEREE BAGBY IN BANKRUPTCY CASE.

Today Referee in Bankruptcy E. W. Bagby made a "show why" order of sale in the Q. C. Leigh branch of the bankrupt case of the Leigh Fruit & Storage Company.

Mr. Leigh, it will be remembered, made an individual assignment when he assigned for the firm and his individual assignment was brought into the bankruptcy court with the firm. The order of sale today was made on the property located near the city hall at Fourth and Kentucky Avenue.

The sale will be made ten days hence unless the creditors meeting develops facts which will make this contrary to the regular rules of procedure.

MEET SUNDAY

TO SETTLE THE PASTORATE OF THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The members of the First Presbyterian church will hold a congregational meeting Sunday morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of calling a pastor to take charge of the church.

Rev. Cave resigned several months ago on account of ill health but has now recovered and many think he will remain here.

This afternoon in Dr. S. B. Caldwell's office the committee from the church will meet to discuss the advisability of putting the Sunday morning meeting off to enable Rev. Francis R. Beattie, of Louisville to preach. From present indications the morning meeting to call a pastor will not be postponed, however. There are only two ministers favorably named, they being Rev. Cave, of Paducah, and Rev. Porter, of Louisville.

It has been reported that Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, of the First Christian church, had decided to reconsider his resignation, and at the earnest solicitation of his many friends and admirers, remain in Paducah. Rev. Pinkerton today stated that this was a mistake, as he would leave Paducah when his resignation became effective.

ELABORATE INVITATION.

Mr. Charles M. Leake has received from St. Louis an invitation to the Veiled Prophet's Ball, October 4th. The invitation is one of the most artistic things imaginable, made from German silver and aluminum, and is handsomely decorated. Very few receive these invitations, Mr. Leake getting his from a friend who is on the Merchant Exchange.

ELKS BUILDING

Mr. Kenneth McDonald to Draw Plans.

Work on the Government Building About Finished—Other Building Notes.

Paducah Lodge of Elks may build next year, from present indications. After months of delay the lodge last night decided to use plans submitted by Mr. Kenneth McDonald, of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. McDonald will superintend the erection of the handsome building on North Fifth street adjoining the government building.

Mr. McDonald was in the city last evening, and the plans he submitted are for a six story building to cost about $58,000. The drawings as now arranged call for a buffet and dining room on the first floor, hotel bedrooms on the second, third and fourth, Elks club rooms on the fifth and the lodge rooms on the sixth. It is possible that these may be changed. The raising of the money necessary and the beginning of the work are matters left to the building committee.

A DRY CROWD

SALOON AND GROCERY VISITED BY THIEVES. WHO GOT MUCH LIQUOR.

The combination grocery and saloon run by Messrs. Levi Lee and Pat Lydon at Ninth and Washington streets, was broken into last night and robbed.

Entrance was gained through a rear door by bursting off the lock. Mr. Lydon closed the store last night about 12 o'clock and went home. This morning about 5 o'clock when he opened the place found that the back door had been broken open and the cash drawer robbed of about $10 and a whiskey barrel tapped of several gallons of liquor.

The matter has been reported to the police who are working on the case.

Every republican in Paducah and the incorporated towns of the district should register on next Tuesday, October 4th.

LEFT UNCONSCIOUS ABOARD HIS YACHT

Insurance Broker Assaulted and Robbed.

Athlete Arrested And He Attempts to Kill the Detective Who Did It.

HE THEN ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

New York, September 30.—In the arrest of a young man who calls himself Thomas H. Price, and the murderous assault upon a detective sergeant, in which the latter was severely stabbed twice, it developed today that A. Z. Leubbers, an insurance broker, was a few days ago assaulted and robbed and left unconscious in a launch on the Hudson river.

The assault and robbery of Mr. Leubbers was committed, according to a confession which the police say has been made by Price, for the sole purpose of getting money which the latter had to have to continue in extravagance and fashion. Price, who is a man of athletic build, only twenty-two, well dressed, with every trace of refinement and education, was desperate and threatened to end his life at the first opportunity, the police sergeant said.

According to the story told by the police the assault and robbery of Mr. Leubbers was brought about by an advertisement in a New York newspaper, offering to sell a naphtha launch. When a well-mannered young man called on the insurance broker at his home and represented that he wanted to buy a naphtha launch, the broker went with him to show him that it was in working order. The two boarded the boat and set out on a run about the river. While he talked the young man held a large iron wrench in his hand. Suddenly, according to the story told the police, he leaped forward and dealt the broker a hard blow on the head, felling him unconscious to the bottom of the boat.

When the boat was in the middle of the stream, it is alleged that Price stripped Mr. Leubbers of his clothes and his jewelry. He even changed clothing with the unconscious man, and then steered the launch to the shore, alighted and pushed the boat out into the stream.

Mr. Leubbers was rescued and towed to shore, and the story of his assault and robbery was told the police.

When Price was arrested today the prisoner made a violent attack upon his captor and other officers were called before he was subdued and taken to the police station. In the struggle Price used a lead pencil as a weapon and inflicted two severe stab wounds in the detective's neck.

COMPLAIN OF TOMATO JUICE.

A great deal of complaint has been lodged within the last few days relative to the unsanitary condition at the Paducah Packing company's plant, of the "canning factory," on South Tenth street near Norton. It is said that tomatoes rotting in the yard and permitted to run out into the gutter emit a very disagreeable odor and that the residents can hardly stand it. The matter was referred to the health authority but nothing done so far. President Robertson, of the board of health, stated this afternoon that this matter came under the authority of Health Officer Graves who had authority to issue warrants and compel a cleaning up, if necessary. It is likely something will be done at once.

HOLY WATERS.

Little Girl Dying with Consumption Dips Herself and Claims She Is Well.

Loures, Sept. 30.—The population of this city is speaking of nothing but a new miracle due to the healing powers of the holy waters here. Pretty little Marie Madeline Geaser, apparently dying with consumption, was dipped in the holy waters some days ago.

She almost immediately began to grow better, and yesterday she was placed before the altar of the church of Notre Dame des Victoires.

As the priests chanted the benediction she suddenly rose. Her face seemed transfigured and with loud voice she told the congregation that she felt well the moment the water in the grotto touched her body, and that she would now be as strong as other children. Catholics believe openly in a miracle, while the doctors are skeptic.

Dr. Berillon, a recognized authority on hypnotism, declares that the recovery has absolutely nothing to do with the immersion in the water, but is due solely to hypnotic suggestion by the priests of the church. He says that these like doctors, make a study of suggestive susceptibility of the patient and these induce a hypnotic state by their chant and finally associating certain acts with cure leave the patient in a state of suggested cure.

BILLS AGAINST THE CITY.

The city finance committee will meet tonight to audit accounts against the city. All day long persons holding accounts were lodging their bills with the city clerk for presentation to the committee tonight for auditing. The business during the past month has been rather large.

Republicans, do not fail to register Tuesday, October 4th, 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

And all the Presidents of the United States.

This splendid work on oratory and statesmanship has been made in six handsome 12mo. volumes, printed from new, large type-set plates, on the best book paper, and bound in the best book linen garment cloth and lettered and embossed in gold. Two-color title pages and handsome illustrations embellish the volumes. The general style is in keeping with bindings usually found in a library of the highest quality. It is a set of books especially adapted to the student of the present generation, both old and young, and there is no collection of literature that the intelligent young student could study with greater profit. As an educational work it has been pronounced one of the most valuable publications that can be obtained at moderate cost. Following out our idea of providing our readers with opportunities of securing the best of the best standard books at moderate cost, we now offer to our readers a proposition which is certain to enlist the keenest interest with book lovers in all parts of the country. We have determined to furnish this popular collection of books as a premium for old and new subscribers to our journals, making the terms so easy that all who will may have them, notwithstanding the fact that the publisher's price for identical sets of books is $9.00. With every set there is included 25 sepia prints, portraits of the Presidents of the United States and their autographs. Instructions are given how to frame these pictures at home by the use of a simple process. These prints are hitherto from the finest collection of steel plates in existence. These portraits are separate and are additional to the many illustrations to be found in the set.

AFTER FORTY YEARS

Master and Old Slave Talked Again.

They Had Not Heard of One Another For Nearly Half a Century.

Union City, Tenn., September 30.—Mr. A. O. Reeds, 78 years of age, one of Union City's oldest and most highly respected citizens, was summoned to the central office of the Cumberland Telephone Company last evening to answer a call from Fulton, Ky. Fearing that his brother Emmett or some member of his family was seriously ill, Mr. Reeds tremblingly answered the call, and was made happy by his fears proving groundless. It was only an 80-year-old darkey who wished to talk with him, and when he found out who it was he was made doubly happy.

The aged darkey was Enos Reeds, whom Mr. Reeds had not seen or heard of in over forty years. Mr. Reeds and Enos were boys together on the plantation of the former's father in Louisiana. The war came up and Enos ran off to the Yankees. He was captured in Arkansas, and Mr. Reeds went after him, brought him to Hickman, Ky., and started with him back home. On reaching the home of Isaac Davis, Mr. Reeds' uncle, in the Seventh Civil District of this county, about eight miles from Union City, Mr. Reeds decided to leave Enos, return to Louisiana and get a power of attorney from his father to sell the darkey, reasoning that as he had once ran away, he would do so again.

While the young master was gone to secure permission from his father to sell the slave, Enos made his escape, and when young Reeds returned he found the darkey gone, and never heard from him again until he heard his voice through the telephone, hard on to a half century after.

A few days ago, while Mr. Emmett Reeds of Fulton, brother of Mr. A. O. Reeds, was at the St. Louis Fair, he met Enos, accidentally, and invited the old family servant to come home with him and see his young master from whom he made his escape, and the aged darkey, who is quite wealthy, gladly accepted the invitation; and despite the fact that Mr. Reeds is feeble and tottery, he hurried to Fulton to meet his old-time slave and playmate of the long ago.

ABSCESS.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world.

ABSCESS, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies, introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc.

Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Every republican in Paducah and the incorporated towns of the district should register on next Tuesday, October 4th.

AMUSING.

Last Saturday at Guthrie, Ollie James, A. O. Stanley and the other Democratic congressmen were flaying the tobacco trust alive and promising what they would do to it, while at the same time the Courier-Journal is howling because the Republican administration is clipping its wings, claiming that the administration is persecuting the tobacco trust because the said trust has largely contributed financially to the Democratic campaign fund and was actively supporting Parker and Davis. The members of the trust, some of them buying a handsome silk banner displaying the pictures of Parker and Davis. Ain't it amusing? The way to get prices for tobacco is to organize and fix your selling price, and that alone. Free trade or other demagogic harangues by Ollie James, Stanley, Gaites and others to the contrary notwithstanding.—Princeton Chronicle.

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID

NEW YORK CITY IS THREATENED WITH THE WORST OUT-BREAK IN ITS HISTORY.

New York, September 30.—Greater New York is at present threatened with what may be the severest epidemic of typhoid fever in its history. Not only are the number of typhoid cases reported for the three weeks of September ended last Saturday greater than that of any month last year, but since the beginning of summer the death rate has been so much higher than formerly that the health department is now thoroughly alarmed and is bending every effort toward checking the disease.

When it is considered that the spread of typhoid was greater than it had been for many years, the gravity of the present situation is indicated.

For the three weeks just ended the total number of cases reported at the health department was 441. The fatalities numbered 74, or a death rate of nearly 20 per cent. Last year, during the worst month, that of October, the largest number of cases was 324, and the highest death rate at any time during the year was 15.4 per cent.

NEGLECTED COLDS.

Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subject to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. 25c, 50c, $1.00. W. A. Kendrick, Valley Mills, Texas, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat troubles; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The "Paducah Toilet Company" incorporators have elected officers as follows: Miss Eleanor Trezevant, president and general manager; W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., vice president; W. F. Paxton, treasurer, and Reuben Rowland, secretary.

SPRAINS.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Texas, writes, March 11th, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Every republican in Paducah and the incorporated towns of the district should register on next Tuesday, October 4th.

AFTER FORTY YEARS

Master and Old Slave Talked Again.

They Had Not Heard of One Another For Nearly Half a Century.

Union City, Tenn., September 30.—Mr. A. O. Reeds, 78 years of age, one of Union City's oldest and most highly respected citizens, was summoned to the central office of the Cumberland Telephone Company last evening to answer a call from Fulton, Ky. Fearing that his brother Emmett or some member of his family was seriously ill, Mr. Reeds tremblingly answered the call, and was made happy by his fears proving groundless. It was only an 80-year-old darkey who wished to talk with him, and when he found out who it was he was made doubly happy.

The aged darkey was Enos Reeds, whom Mr. Reeds had not seen nor heard of in over forty years. Mr. Reeds and Enos were boys together on the plantation of the former's father in Louisiana. The war came up and Enos ran off to the Yankees. He was captured in Arkansas, and Mr. Reeds went after him, brought him to Hickman, Ky., and started with him back home. On reaching the home of Isham Davis, Mr. Reeds' uncle, in the Seventh Civil District of this county, about eight miles from Union City, Mr. Reeds decided to leave Enos, return to Louisiana and get a power of attorney from his father to sell the darkey, reasoning that as he had once ran away, he would do so again.

While the young master was gone to secure permission from his father to sell the slave, Enos made his escape, and when young Reeds returned he found the darkey gone, and never heard from him again until he heard his voice through the telephone, hard on to a half century after.

A few days ago, while Mr. Emmett Reeds of Fulton, brother of Mr. A. O. Reeds, was at the St. Louis Fair, he met Enos, accidentally, and invited the old family servant to come home with him and see his young master from whom he made his escape, and the aged darkey, who is quite wealthy, gladly accepted the invitation; and despite the fact that Mr. Reeds is feeble and tottery, he hurried to Fulton to meet his old-time slave and playmate of the long ago.

ABCESSES.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

ABCESSES, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies, introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc.

AMUSING.

Last Saturday at Guthrie, Ollie James, A. O. Stanley and the other Democratic congressmen were flaying the tobacco trust alive and promising what they would do to it, while at the same time the Courier-Journal is howling because the Republican administration is clipping its wings, claiming that the administration is persecuting the tobacco trust because the said trust has largely contributed financially to the Democratic campaign fund and was actively supporting Parker and Davis. The members of the trust, some of them buying a handsome silk banner displaying the pictures of Parker and Davis. Ain't it amusing? The way to get prices for tobacco is to organize and fix your selling price, and that alone. Free trade or other demagogic harangues by Ollie James, Stanley, Gaines and others to the contrary notwithstanding.—Princeton Chronicle.

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID

NEW YORK CITY IS THREATENED WITH THE WORST OUTBREAK IN ITS HISTORY.

New York, September 30.—Greater New York is at present threatened with what may be the severest epidemic of typhoid fever in its history. Not only are the number of typhoid cases reported for the three weeks of September ended last Saturday greater than that of any month last year, but since the beginning of summer the death rate has been so much higher than formerly that the health department is now thoroughly alarmed and is bending every effort toward checking the disease.

When it is considered that the spread of typhoid is greater than it had been for many years, the gravity of the present situation is indicated.

For the three weeks just ended the total number of cases reported at the health department was 441. The fatalities numbered 74, or a death rate of nearly 20 per cent. Last year, during the worst month, that of October, the largest number of cases was 324, and the highest death rate at any time during the year was 13.4 per cent.

NEGLECTED COLDS.

Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subject to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. 25c, 50c, $1.00. W. A. Kendrick, Valley Mills, Texas, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat troubles; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The "Paducah Toilet Company" incorporated have elected officers as follows: Miss Eleanor Trezevant, president and general manager; W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., vice president; W. F. Paxton, treasurer, and Reuben Rowland, secretary.

SPRAINS.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Texas, writes, March 11th, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

The second day out he accosted the skipper, Master Jabez Elves, and wished him fair weather and a good day with an insinuating accent which betokened a bent for conversation. But Master Elves replied only with a nautical grunt.

Jarrat tried a direct inquiry. "Where is the Marquis de la Trouerie?"

"Sick," replied the skipper. "In his cabin," and rolled away.

"Ah!" smiled Jarrat. "Our French gentleman is a poor sailor."

But as the days went by it became certain that the distinguished passenger was ill of a less passing malady than that of mer.

On an evening the captain pushed open a narrow cabin door at the end of a passage, but before he could enter a young man sprang up and barred the way.

"I would see the Marquis de la Trouerie," said Jarrat.

"You cannot see him, monsieur." The young man's tone was very firm.

"Who are you?"

"The marquis's secretary, monsieur."

Jarrat took a gold crown from his pocket and offered it to the other with the easy effrontery of one perfectly certain of his ground. Every underling, it was his belief, had his price, from lackeys to prime ministers. It is a theory which on the whole works not badly.

The man before him, however, was of another sort. He put the coin back.

"You cannot see the marquis, monsieur," he repeated.

"Cannot, you whelp?" said Jarrat, with his tongue on his lip and in the soft tone which with him covered a white boil of rage.

A copper lantern, pierced with holes, threw yellow beams down the passage, and in this glare the young man on the threshold saw his face, evilly beautiful and distorted. The coin rattled on the floor.

The young Frenchman stooped to pick up a gold piece. "Monsieur has dropped his crown," he said, holding it out.

Jarrat took it and thrust it into his pocket. "It was too small a douceur," he said easily, "oh, master secretary?"

Most of those on the ship did not know, so insular were the prejudices of the Anglo-Saxon, that the Marquis de la Trouerie was a personage in his own country. Even Caron de Beaumarchais, son of a watchmaker, that airy, naive, fantastic charlatan who at the age of twenty-four had washed his hands at his father's shop, changed his clothes and gone to court to give the four daughters of Louis XV. lessons on the harp—even he was less welcome at the Tuilleries or less a favorite of the young Queen Marie Antoinette than this same nobleman now aboard the Two Sisters.

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that the passengers knew little of such things and doubtless for the most part cared less. Two Annapolis merchants, loyal since the nonimportation agreements had pinched their pockets; a brace of London factors looking for likely agencies; a Virginian fresh from study in the Middle Temple, bound for the workhouse at Lancaster; a British quartermaster journeying to Boston—what should such a company know of Gallic pedigrees or the chatter of the French court?

A diplomat might have found in the presence of the marquis something to ponder. For at that time strange things were stirring. Louis XVI., young, enthusiastic, unaccustomed, was learning for the first time how exceeding difficult it is to be a king. M. Turgot, his grim old minister of finance, logical, pitiless, cold as a dog's nose, was pulling one way; Beaumarchais, brilliant as a chameleon, fascinating, egotist, intimate of a French queen, was pulling another.

And what was the bone of contention? Whether France should give her treasure to the secret aid of the American colonies. With such counsels in the air England slept, like a surly bulldog, with one eye open. She watched at home, and her astute ambassador, Lord Stormont, kept a hawk's eye upon the Tuilleries.

So, in itself, there was an interest for those who knew, attaching to the sudden journeying to America of this man, so near to the French counsels, at once a noble, a courtier and a republican. And this interest was intensified for Jarrat, who, mindful of the letter he carried of confidential import, hugged the reflection that he knew the reason for it.

Jarrat, like many another schemer, made the error of undervaluing the intellectuality of an opponent. He had small idea that the marquis' young secretary was observant in his turn. It was nevertheless the fact. But M. Armand, who had scented him very early, kept his cabin, and no one aboard the ship carried no leech-saw his master.

Four days after the episode of the gold crown Jarrat tried the skipper again.

Master Elves eluded a bitter end and wore a habitual droop to his eye. Now the courtesy came as thickly as cold weather treacle.

"The Marquis de la Trouerie," he answered, "ain't on the ship."

"You cannot see him."

Jarrat stepped back heavily. "Not on the ship, bend plague me! He is on the ship."

"Mayhap ye know better nor I," answered Master Elves shortly.

Jarrat burst out laughing. He felt a sudden contempt for this clumsy subterfuge.

"A brave conclusion!" he cried. "And how long is it to last? Is the noble gentleman to the shaming Abraham in his cabin till we sight the Virginia cape? Awhile ago he was sick, guarded from all our prying eyes by his argus-eyed clerk. Now, behold, he is not even absent! Oh, an accomplished nobleman!"

The skipper squinted out to sea, and a drawn pucker came to his lips.

"You ain't Jarrat, his tone taking edge. 'I have business with this gentleman, and I'll not be put off. This is the eighth day out, and he hasn't shown his nose out of his cabin. 'Tis my opinion he's no more sick than I am.'"

"No more is he," said Master Elves. "What then?"

"Just this: I want to see the marquis, and I mean to see the marquis. I've heard that, you lumpin'! 'Twill be better for you, I can tell you, if you fetch me to him at once!"

The skipper's moment had arrived. "Fetch ye to him!" he roared, with something between an oath and a chuckle. "The man ye're after died two days ago and was sent to the fishes last night! Fetch ye to him! Haw, haw!"

With this parting shot he went off spitting furiously.

"Dead!" exclaimed Jarrat, with sagging jaw, staring after him. "Dead!" he said again, and then stood, vacant eyed, his face the dead color of clagrin in which calculation has had no time to slip.

TORMENTING RHEUMATISM

Columbus, Ohio, May 20, 1903.

Six years ago I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicines every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was so bad that I could not move knee or foot. I was getting discouraged, you may be sure, when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me I continued it, and to-day I am a sound well man and have never had a return of the disease. S. S. S. purified my blood and cured me of this severe case of Rheumatism after everything else had failed. I have recommended it to others with good results.

R. H. CHAPMAN, 1355 Mt. Vernon Ave.

The poisonous acids that produce the inflammation and pain are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism can never be conquered till these are neutralized and filtered out of the blood and system. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation and attacks the disease itself. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, vigorous condition. It contains no poison, alkali or other strong minerals, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable. Write us and our physicians will advise without any charge whatever. Our book on Rheumatism sent free.

AGENT GONE

HE DISAPPEARED SEVERAL DAYS AGO AT MOUNDS, ILL.

The Cairo Bulletin says: "A. H. Plemons, for the past four years ticket agent for the Illinois Central railroad company at Mounds, Ill., and also agent for the American Express company, has been missing from that city since Monday night and his whereabouts are unknown."

"He left home Monday evening telling his wife that he was going to Cairo to see the performance of 'The Tenderfoot' at the opera house. He failed to return to Mounds Tuesday and it was learned from a conductor that he had gone to Martin, Tenn., since which time he has not been seen."

"When Plemons failed to return to Mounds the railroad officials took charge of the office and began an investigation. J. J. Hester, auditor for the road, was sent from Chicago and D. K. Brown, auditor for the American Express company joined him in his investigation. It is claimed they have already discovered shortages amounting to nearly $1,000 and are still engaged in checking up the accounts."

"Plemons has been employed at Mounds by the railroad company the past four years and he was believed to be upright and honest, but it is stated that since his disappearance it is learned that he spent considerable time at the gaming table. He has one child and his wife residing at Mounds."

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurable" cases have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise, Smothering Spells, Pain in Chest, Left Shoulder and arm, Discomfort in Lying on one side, Fainting Spells, Nervous Cough, Swelling of Feet and Ankles, Paleness of Face and Lips, Palpitation, Nightmare, Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." Hearts Courageous

HALLIE
ERMINIE
RIVES

Copyright, 1902, by THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

The second day out he accosted the skipper, Master Jabez Elves, and wished him fair weather and a good day with an insinuating accent which betokened a bent for conversation. But Master Elves replied only with a nautical grunt.

Jarrat tried a direct inquiry. "Where is the Marquis de la Trouerie?"

"Sick," replied the skipper. "In his cabin," and rolled away.

"Ah," smiled Jarrat. "Our French gentleman is a poor sailor."

But as the days went by it became certain that the distinguished passenger was ill of a less passing malady than mal de mer.

On an evening the captain pushed open a narrow cabin door at the end of a passage, but before he could enter a young man sprang up and barred the way.

"I would see the Marquis de la Trouerie," said Jarrat.

"You cannot see him, monsieur. The young man's tone was very firm.

"Who are you?"

"The marquis's secretary, monsieur."

Jarrat took a gold crown from his pocket and offered it to the other with the easy effrontery of one perfectly certain of his ground. Every underling, it was his belief, had his price, from lackeys to prime ministers. It is a theory which on the whole works not badly.

The man before him, however, was of another sort. He put the coin back. "You cannot see the marquis, monsieur," he repeated.

"Cannot, you whelp?" said Jarrat, with his tongue on his lip and in the soft tone which with him covered a white heat of rage. A copper lantern, pierced with holes, threw yellow beams down the passage, and in this glare the young man on the threshold saw his face, evilly beautiful and distorted. The coin rattled on the floor.

The young Frenchman stooped to pick up a gold piece. "Monsieur has dropped his crown," he said, holding it out.

Jarrat took it and thrust it into his pocket. "It was too small a denouement," he said easily. "eh, master secretary?"

Most of those on the ship did not know, so insular were the prejudices of the Anglo-Saxon, that the Marquis de la Trouerie was a personage in his own country. Even Caron de Beaumarchais, son of a watchmaker, that airy, naive, fantastic charlatan who at the age of twenty-four had washed his hands at his father's shop, changed his clothes and gone to court to give the four daughters of Louis XV. lessons on the harp—even he was less welcome at the Tuileries or less a favorite of the young Queen Marie Antoinette than this some nobleman now aboard the Two Sisters.

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that the passengers knew little of such things and doubtless for the most part cared less. Two Annapolis merchants, loyal since the nonimportation agreements had pinched their pockets; a brace of London factors looking for likely agencies; a Virginian fresh from study in the Middle Temple, bound for the woolstack at Lancaster; a British quartermaster journeying to Boston—what should such a company know of Gallic pedigrees or the chatter of the French court?

A diplomat might have found in the presence of the marquis something to ponder. For at that time strange things were stirring. Louis XVI., young, enthusiastic, unaccustomed, was learning for the first time exceeding difficult it is to be a king. M. Turgot, his grim old minister of finance, logical, pitiless, cold as a dog's nose, was pulling one way; Beaumarchais, brilliant as a chameleon, fascinating, egotist, intimate of a French queen, was pulling another.

And what was the bone of contention? Whether France should give her treasure to the secret aid of the American colonies. With such counsels in the air England slept, like a surly bulldog, with one eye open. She watched at home, and her astute ambassador, Lord Stormont, kept a hawk's eye upon the Tuileries.

So, in itself, there was an interest for those who knew, attaching to the sudden journeying to America of this man, so near to the French counsels, at once a noble, a courtier and a republican. And this interest was intensified for Jarrat, who, mindful of the letter he carried of confidential import, hugged the reflection that he knew the reason for it.

Jarrat, like many another schemer, made the error of undervaluing the intellectuality of an opponent. He had small idea that the marquis' young secretary was observant in his turn. It was nevertheless the fact. But M. Armand, who had scented him very early, kept his cabin, and no one aboard the ship carried no leech—saw his master.

Four days after the episode of the gold crown Jarrat tried the skipper again.

Master Elves chuckled a bitter end and wore a habitual droop to his eye. Now the courtesy came as thickly as cold weather treacle.

"The Marquis de la Trouerie," he answered, "ain't on the ship."

"You cannot see him."

Jarrat stepped back heavily. "Not on the ship, bend plague me! He is on the ship."

"Mayhap ye know better nor I," answered Master Elves shortly.

Jarrat burst out laughing. He felt a sudden contempt for this clumsy subtlety.

"A brave conclusion!" he cried. "And how long is it to last? Is the noble gentleman to be shamming Abraham in his cabin till we sight the Virginia capes? Awhile ago he was sick, guarded from all our prying eyes by his argus-eyed clerk. Now, behold, he is not even aboard! Oh, an accomplished nobleman!"

The skipper squinted out to sea, and a drawn pucker came to his lips.

"See here," said Jarrat, his tone taking edge. "I have business with this gentleman, and I'll not be put off. This is the eighth day out, and he hasn't shown his nose out of his cabin. 'Tis my opinion he's no more sick than I am."

"No more is he," said Master Elves. "What then?"

"Just this: I want to see the marquis, and I mean to see the marquis. D'ye hear that, you lumpkin? 'Twill be better for you, I can tell you, if you fetch me to him at once!"

The skipper's moment had arrived. "Fetch ye to him!" he roared, with something between an oath and a chuckle. "The man ye're after died two days ago and was sent to the fishes last night! Fetch ye to him! Haw, haw!"

With this parting shot he went off spitting furiously.

"Dead!" exclaimed Jarrat, with sagging jaw, staring after him. "Dead!" he said again, and then stood, vacant eyed, his face the dead color of clergin in which calculation has had no time to slip.

TORMENTING RHEUMATISM

Columbus, Ohio, May 20, 1903.
Six years ago I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicines every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was so bad that I could not move knee or foot. I was getting discouraged, you may be sure, when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me I continued it, and to-day I am a sound well man and have never had a return of the disease. S. S. S. purified my blood and cured me of this severe case of rheumatism after everything else had failed. I have recommended it to others with good results. R. H. CHAPMAN.
1355 Mt. Vernon Ave.

The poisonous acids that produce the inflammation and pain are absorbed into the blood and rheumatism can never be conquered till these are neutralized and filtered out of the blood and system. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation and attacks the disease itself. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, vigorous condition. It contains no potash, alkali or other strong minerals, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable. Write us and our physicians will advise with you at any charge whatever. Our book on Rheumatism sent free.

AGENT GONE

HE DISAPPEARED SEVERAL DAYS AGO AT MOUNDS, ILL.

The Cairo Bulletin says: "A. H. Plemons, for the past four years ticket agent for the Illinois Central railroad company at Mounds, Ill., and also agent for the American Express company, has been missing from that city since Monday night and his whereabouts are unknown."

"He left home Monday evening telling his wife that he was going to Cairo to see the performance of 'The Tenderfoot' at the opera house. He failed to return to Mounds Tuesday and it was learned from a conductor that he had gone to Martin, Tenn., since which time he has not been seen."

"When Plemons failed to return to Mounds the railroad officials took charge of the office and began an investigation. J. J. Hester, auditor for the road, was sent from Chicago and D. K. Brown, auditor for the American Express company joined him in his investigation. It is claimed they have already discovered shortages amounting to nearly $1,000 and are still engaged in checking up the accounts."

"Plemons has been employed at Mounds by the railroad company the past four years and he was believed to be upright and honest, but it is stated that since his disappearance it is learned that he spent considerable time at the gaming table. He has one child and his wife residing at Mounds."

STOLE THE SHOES.

Mrs. Matt Quisenberry, who runs a store at Fourteenth and Burnett streets, was dragged and thrown down early last evening by an unknown negro who came in and purchased a pair of shoes and attempted to leave without paying for them.

Mrs. Quisenberry seized him to hold him until she could get help, but he ran, and being large and strong dragged her towards the door and escaped, throwing Mrs. Quisenberry down as he leaped out the door.

He escaped with the shoes and the police have been unable to find him. Mrs. Quisenberry had an arm wrenched, but otherwise was uninjured.

Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to Indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." One year later—"I am still in good health; the Heart Cure did so much for me, that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed it to be."—S. D. YOUNG, D. D., 937 North Pine St., Natchez, Miss.

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure, and price $1.00.

Barney Levitan Files Action Against the Baers Today.

The Police Court Had Very Few Cases on the Docket This Morning.

NEWS OF THE OTHER COURTS

SUITS FILED.

The following suits were filed in circuit court today:

Barney Levitan against Joseph Baer
and Mrs. Mary Baer. In each suit $10,000 damages is asked for alleged slander. It is alleged that the latter defendant called him "a dirty thief" and the former called him "a dirty thief and a convict."

Olivia Montfort against William Montfort, suit for divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and abandonment.

John F. Rothwell and others to J.
W. Ellis, for $500, property in the county.

WILL RENOUNCED.

Eugenia W. Gilbert widow of the late Jesse M. Gilbert, today renounced the will of her husband, relinquishing all claims on property left to her under it.

JUSTICE YOUNG'S COURT.

Two warrants were yesterday issued against Eli Brake in Justice Young's court, for breach of the peace, and the trial is set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

DEEDS.

W. O. O'Bryan has deeded property in O'Bryan's addition for $120, to Elbert Grubbs.

Special Commissioner Gip Husbands
sold to T. F. Herring, for $1,055, property in the Wilcox addition beyond Island creek.

H. O. Brame bought property in the Hays subdivision for $350, from Thomas Falk.

Gip Husbands sold to W. K. Rudolph, for $725, land in the county.

Property in O'Bryan's addition was bought by A. D. Buchanan from W.
O. O'Bryan, for $360.

A. F. Darden bought land in the county from W. F. Ware for $100.

POWER OF ATTORNEY.

M. R. Briggs has conferred power of attorney on Charles E. Jennings of Paducah.

SUIT ON NOTE.

Mike Isaman has filed suit against Sam McClure for $324, claimed to be due on a note. The paper is dated February 11, 1909.

JUSTICE GHOLSON'S COURT.
County Attorney Eugene Graves yesterday attended Justice Gholson's court on the Blandville road. Sam Griffith and Tony Lee, colored, were fined $5 and costs for fighting.

POLICE COURT.

Jim Jones and Frank Mason, colored, who seemed to have made a practice of buying stoves from installment houses and selling them before they had paid for them, were held over to the grand jury this morning under a $300 bond for obtaining money by false pretenses.

The case against E. B. Marlin, alias Marshall, for passing a forged check, was continued. He is the man arrested at Central City and returned here by Captain Woods yesterday.

Will Owens, colored, was dismissed of the charge of robbery but is being held for detaining a woman against her will. The warrant for robbery was filed away which means the same as dismissal as he could not be identified as the man who robbed Farmer Williams. The woman who claims to have been detained is Susie Rudder, colored, and she has never procured a warrant. This is alleged to have happened five months ago and the police are working on the case.

Mary Clements, white, was granted a continuance on the charge of breach of the peace. It is alleged she used abusive language towards a boarder.

The case against Richard Yeltama, white, charged with cruelty to animals, was continued.

Albert Jackson, colored, was given 30 days in city jail for stealing a can of oysters from Pearson's saloon.

The breach of the peace case against Nellie King, was continued.

A case against H. M. Cunningham for breach of ordinance, was dismissed in police court this morning.

It seems that Mr. Cunningham, who is a plaster contractor, has been ill and his men on a job near Twelfth and Broadway, used a hydrant in a neighboring yard. Mr. Cunningham was ill and unable to go to secure a permit from the water company.

TO BE TRIED FOR LUNACY.

John McEly, age 22, who resides near Metropolis Landing below the city on the Cairo road, was arrested last night by Sheriff Lee Potter and Deputy Will Lydon for lunacy, and will be given a trial tomorrow morning before County Judge R. T. Lightfoot. McEly was overheated two years ago and went insane from the effects. He was sent to the asylum and returned a year later alleged to be cured. Of late he has been acting a little "off" and his people fearing he would hurt someone, sent for the officers and had him arrested.

The young man was in the field working when the sheriff arrived, and they waited in the barn until he came in. Sheriff Potter informed him that some of the people said he was crazy and to prove they were wrong he should come to town and stand trial and prove his innocence. The young man readily came.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

WATER WORKS AT PRINCETON.

Princeton, Ky., September 30.—A water works system is one of the things Princeton may have in the near future. Estimates of engineers indicate that the cost would be about $40,000, and an effort will be made to vote bonds for it.

AGED INMATE DEAD.

Hopkinsville, Ky., September 30.— John Bennett, the oldest patient of the Western Kentucky Asylum for the insane, died at the institution of diseases incident to his advanced age of 93 years. The body was shipped to his former home at Fredonia, Caldwell county, where it will be interred.

BRIDEGROOM'S DEATH.

Versailles, Ky., Sept. 30.—The body of Joseph Cunningham, a popular young farmer of this county, who died at Bagdad, Ky., was brought here for burial.
Cunningham and his bride of four months went to Bagdad for a visit one petition was filed signed by eighty citizens requesting the county judge to call an election on the liquor question, the purpose of the election being to repeal the local option law now in force. County Judge Hargis took the matter under advisement until yesterday, when he entered an order calling the election for the second Saturday in June, 1910.

This has incensed the liquor men, who have been threatening to bring an action for a mandamus against Judge Hargis to require him to call the election.

WANT BAIL

MOTION TO COME UP SATURDAY
BEFORE THE BULLITT
COUNTY JUDGE.

Shepherdsville, Ky., September 30.—
The Hon. Charles Carroll, attorney for John R. T. Barbour, filed a petition in the Bullitt county court for a writ of habeas corpus, directed to E.
D. Jones, jailer of Bullitt county, requiring the latter to bring Barbour into the court house Saturday morning at 1 o'clock, when the latter will move the court to admit him to bail during the pendency of the indictment charging him with the murder of F. J. Hagan.

J. F. Combs, the county attorney week ago. He became ill of typhoid fever as soon as he reached his destination, and died after four days' illness.

Cunningham was twenty-eight years old. The funeral was conducted by Dr.
G. H. Runt, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

MANY PERSONS CONVERTED.
Elizabethtown, Ky., Sept. 30.—The revival conducted by the Rev. M. Ham, which had been in progress for a fortnight, closed last night with 123 conversions.

HEAD BLOWN OFF.

Harlan, Ky., Sept. 30.—Word has just reached here from Cornettsville, Perry county, forty miles north of here, to the effect that the fifteen-year-old son of Arch Cornett was accidentally shot and the whole top of his head blown off. He had gone out in the forest in the early evening squirrel hunting and failing to return a search was made. He was found lying by a rock, where it seems that he had fallen and the hammer had struck the rock and discharged the gun.

of Bullitt is preparing to resist the motion, and a stubborn and hard-fought legal battle between the contending lawyers is anticipated.

In the absence of the circuit judge the judge of the county court has jurisdiction in the matter, and the motion will be heard and passed on by Judge Leroy Daniel.

CHAS HAY ILL

BROTHER OF SECRETARY OF
STATE AND AN ILLINOISAN, DOWN IN WASHINGTON.

Boston, Mass., September 30.—
Charles G. Hay, brother of Secretary
Hay, is seriously, though not critically, ill in this city. Hay, accompanied by his wife, came here from Illinois to attend the Episcopal convention. He was taken sick while on a hunting trip near Fitchburg.

MEMSIC BEATS GARDNER.

St. Louis, September 30.—George Memisic, of Chicago, was given the decision over Gus Gardner, of Chicago, at the end of their 15-round bout here last night.

PESSIMISTIC VIEW

CHICAGO LABOR LEADERS PRE-DICT DOWNFALL OF UNIONISM.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 30.—Annihilation
for labor unions is predicted by Barney Cohen, president of the state federation of labor, and Richard Stuebel, a delegate of the machinists' union, unless there is a complete reorganization on radical lines. Following the disclosures of disintegration in the Chicago federation of labor, which has lost 100,000 members in the last year, Mr. Cohen says that employers' associations and citizens' alliances in the outside towns are waging a destructive campaign against union men. Mr. Cohen says:

"I believe the remedy lies in the establishment of a central body, with power to assess all organizations to assist in winning strikes. We must fight capital with capital, and one big strike at a time. Labor must also reorganize and get into politics. We must elect judges, legislators and other officeholders who will serve us, and not the employers. I believe that unless the unions reorganize on political lines we are facing a grave crisis."

Mr. Stuebel was more pessimistic. He said: "The bottom is dropping out of the whole local organization. The truth is that Chicago working men have been fighting for organizations until they are at the point of starvation. The men have lost confidence in their leaders, and we must look for a remedy."

Every republican in Paducah and the incorporated towns of the district should register on next Tuesday, October 4th.

NOTED SUIT

COLORADO WILL GET PART OF KANSAS.

Pueblo, Col., Sept. 30.—An effort at a solution of the Kansas-Colorado water suit is in progress and if efforts of those most interested in the case are successful, a strip of the western portion of Kansas, about 100 miles wide, will be annexed to Colorado and litigation now before the supreme court at Washington will be thrown out.

Prominent politicians of Kansas and Colorado are making every effort to get the bill through the legislature of both states whereby the western portion of Kansas can be taken into Colorado.

This, it is thought by those who have given the irrigation question much study will solve the difficulty and both states will be benefited to a great extent. The strip which it is proposed to annex to Colorado is an arid region of the state and the irrigation problem is of the greatest importance to the residents.

East of Dodge City, practically no water is taken from Arkansas river for irrigation purposes and the suit against Colorado was brought for the purpose of securing a sufficient amount of water in that portion of the state extending westward from Dodge City to the Colorado line.

TURNED IN FALSE ALARM.

Last night some one turned in a false alarm from box 19 at Seventh and Boyd streets and the police are this morning looking the case up. It is understood the alarm was sent in by boys to see the fire departments make a good run, and if the boys' names are learned, it will not prove so funny to them.

All republicans are requested to attend a meeting of republicans at their headquarters over Beckman's grocery
Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock.

WEILLE'S FALL SHOWINGS

The Atterbury System in Men's Clothing

We are exclusive agents for the famous Atterbury System of Men's Clothing, the first ranking product in clothing. This clothing is made by the most perfect system of clothing manufacture known and every garment receives the personal attention of a high class tailor. The fabrics are carefully selected and the work all done by high art tailors.
The result is a garment surpassing the products of the average tailor at $10 to $15 less.

The Best Clothing for the Boys

When it comes to buying clothes for the boys you want to get clothes that will stand the hard knocks the youngsters usually give their garments.

In the Buster Brown clothing you will find the best made for boys. It is handsome in appearance and durable in wear.

We have other lines—all good—for good boys and bad boys—clothing that has fit and style to it, and will make the little fellow look like a man.

We especially invite the mothers to visit this department and see the elegant display.

The New Ideas in Fall Overcoats

We have coats for every size man, coats for every occasion and each coat
is a model of perfection.

The new styles are swagger. There are a host of them and the average man can't tell which he wants.

Then there is the fabric and workmanship. Both are of the best.

We invite you to call and let us show them to you. They are just what you want.

THE NEW HATS

We are showing the late products of those master hat makers, Young, Dunlap, Stetson and Hawes, and we make a bid for your inspection of them. Have a big line of caps, too, that are very popular.

NECKWEAR IDEAS

The fall neckwear will appeal to men of taste.
It is so "tasty." There are a host of new ideas—new creations in the late styles which must be seen to be appreciated. The line we have to offer you will do to "tie" to.
